

A Sensual Dart Game for Couples

Overview: This is a fun and easy game that leads you through an increasingly more intense sequence of foreplay activities.

Objective: The ultimate goal, of course, is to screw each other and have fun doing it. However, the activities performed are determined by the winner of 20 rounds of darts. Scoring points in each round also earns you a bit of foreplay performed by your opponent.

Scoring: Scoring sheet templates are included (one blank and one prefilled with a sequence of foreplay ideas). Point totals are calculated as in regular darts. If you score a point in a round, your opponent performs the corresponding foreplay activity. After 20 rounds, the totals are calculated and the winner determines what to do next.

Play: Choose who begins. Each player takes a turn throwing 3 darts. Only the wedge corresponding to the number of the round counts toward a score (e.g. only 3's count in the third round, etc.). The double and triple rings count as 2 times and 3 times the number scored respectively. If you score any point, immediately receive your foreplay bonus.

A second way to win is to "Screw" your opponent. This is done by hitting one dart in the single wedge, one dart in the double ring, and one dart in the triple ring in any order. If you succeed, you immediately win and get to screw your loving opponent your way.

Variations

- * Time of foreplay: score multiplier times 30 seconds
- * Inner bullseye: opponent removes one piece of clothing
- * Outer bullseye: opponent takes a drink
- * Quick game: only do odd or even numbers
- * Invite friends over and play mixed doubles
- * Foreplay is performed only if you don't score
